Renewing your domain costs the same as purchasing a new domain.Â  You can see the current prices on the Heart Internet website: https://www.heartinternet.uk/domain-names/domain-prices. The price for renewing your domain name may change over the years to match with the price of purchasing a new domain. If you are certain you will be using the domain name for a long period of time, it may be more cost-effective to renew it for many years at the current price.
