

Can I renew my domain name at any time?

Article Number: 157 | Rating: 588192.9/5 from 66 votes | Last Updated: Thu, Apr 23, 2015 at 12:07 PM

Domain names can only be renewed within 30 days of the expiry date. You will be notified as the expiration date approaches, giving you enough notice to act. To ensure that you do not lose your domain, we will attempt to renew it during the expiration period.Â We will renew it for another two year period, and we will charge the credit/debit card you have listed as default in your account. You can also actively renew it, changing the period of time from one to ten years, as desired. If you do not wish to renew your domain name, you must cancel the domain name within the 30-day period leading up to your expiration date.

Posted - Thu, Mar 5, 2015 at 4:23 PM.

Online URL: <https://www.heartinternet.uk/support/article/can-i-renew-my-domain-name-at-any-time.html>