Why do I see only setup_script.cgi after using one of your one-click installers?

Article Number: 449 | Rating: 1/5 from 1 votes | Last Updated: Thu, Apr 23, 2015 at 12:33 PM Setup_script.cgi is a behind-the-scenes script that installs your new software for you. In some cases, especially whosting package is brand new, the script doesn't run automatically, so the installation does not proceed. However, you make the script run yourself: Point your web browser towards the location of the setup_script.cgi, such as www.your-domain.com/setup_script.cgi The set-up script will now run and install the software. If your domain is not your extend Control Panel.
